

(Sheet #1-1)

Feature of the project

- Location 2-57-2 Nagatacho, Chiyoda-ku, Tokyo
- Site area approx. 7,900 square meters
- Structure 29 stories above ground and 4 underground stories
- Total floor area approx. 88,000 square meters
- Primary uses Hotel and related facilities : approx. 38,000 square meters
Office : approx. 31,000 square meters
Residence : approx. 3,000 square meters
Parking and more : approx. 16,000 square meters
- Design Nagatacho 2-chome Project Tokyu Architects Engineers and Kanko Kikaku Sekkeisha
- Design Architect Kengo Kuma and Associates
- Construction Shimizu Corporation
- Completion Autumn, 2010 (scheduled)

Floor Guide

- 18-29F Hotel guest rooms
- 16-17F Residence
- 14-15F Hotel and related facilities
- 4-13F Offices
- 1- 3F Hotel and related facilities
- B1F Office entrance
- B2F Connection to subway, Parking lot
- B3F Parking lot

KENGO KUMA

Born in Kanagawa, 1954

Completed his master's degree at Tokyo University, 1979

Visiting scholar at Columbia University from 1985 to 1986

Established Kengo Kuma & Associates, 1990

Professor at Faculty of Science and Technology, Keio University, 2001-present

Major works: Kiro-san Observatory (1995), Water/Glass (1995), Venice Biennale/Space Design of Japanese Pavilion(1995), Stage in Forest, and Toyoma Center for Performance Arts (1997), Stone Museum (2000), Bato-machi Hiroshige Museum (2001)

Awards: AIA Benedictus Award, 1995

Architectural Institute of Japan Annual Award, 1997

International Stone Architecture Award, 2001

The Murano Prize, 2001

The International Spirit of Nature Wood Architecture Award, 2002

SHUNSAKU MIYAGI

Born in Kyoto, 1957

Completed his master's degree at Kyoto University, 1982

Master of Landscape Architecture at Harvard University Graduate School of Design, 1986

Associate Professor of Landscape Architecture, Chiba University, 1992

Professor of Landscape Architecture, Nara National Women's University, 2001-present

Partner, PLACEMEIDA Landscape Architects Collaborative, 1992~present

Recent Works: The Peninsula Tokyo, Grand Hyatt Tokyo, Nagasaki National Peace Memorial Hall for Atomic Bomb Victims, and others.

Awards: Architectural Institute of Japan Annual Award, 1996

Good Design Award, 2001, 2003

Building Contractors Society Award, 2002

(Sheet #1-2)

Rendu

